Help us continue bringing the Gospel to Europe

by Joe Dunn, GCE Co-Director

Joe Dunn

Over 20 years ago, the first missionaries with Great Commission Europe (GCE) stepped onto the soil of spiritually needy Europe. Like Caleb and Joshua in Numbers 13, they were willing to trust God and follow His lead into new territory, even though they, too saw the "giants in the land."

Today, atheism is on the rise, secularism maintains its stronghold, and a majority of those who claim faith do so only in name. In fact, the most reliable research indicates that less than two percent of Europe's population is evangelical.

Even though Christianity appears negligible, Europe is not a lost cause – quite the opposite. In our two decades in Europe, the GCE network now numbers over 80 churches in twelve countries.

Together with those in partnership with us, we have seen a single missionary family grow to dozens of missionaries laboring in many countries. Because of the faith and generosity of our partners, these missionaries began indigenous works that are now driven by the leadership of nationals who will expand the gospel even further.

As we have sought to communicate over the last three years, we are pushing forward with the United for Europe 2014 initiative. We are mobilizing more missionaries, more nationals, and more churches, to send laborers into new cities and countries. Of course, it will not all happen in 2014.

Just as Joshua and Caleb saw the Promised Land through the eyes of faith, we, too, are ready and willing to enter new lands, bringing the gospel of Christ to new countries and peoples throughout Europe.

With this new wave of the gospel being proclaimed, there is an increased need for leadership, equipping, and care as churches will begin to sprout up.

To continue to move forward, we are raising an additional $70,000 in ongoing and special gifts. Would you prayerfully consider investing in the gospel advancing throughout Europe with us by giving a gift of $100, $50, $25 or $15 a month or by giving a special gift of $500, $250, $100 or whatever amount God lays on your heart?

To begin giving, you can use the attached paperwork or visit our website at www.gceweb.org/giving and follow the prompts to give through our U.S. partnering organization, GCM.
